Important Product Use / Safety Info

As a general rule, the taller a vehicle is, the easier it will roll over. Offset, as much as possible, what is lost in rollover resistance by increasing tire track width. In other words, go "wide" as you go "tall". Many sportsmen remove their mud tires after hunting season and install ones more appropriate for street driving; always use as wide a tire and wheel combination as feasible to enhance vehicle stability.

We strongly recommend, because of rollover possibility, that the vehicle be equipped with a functional roll bar and cage system. Seat belts and shoulder harnesses should be worn at all times. Avoid situations where a side rollover may occur.

Generally, braking performance and capabilities are decreased when significantly larger / heavier tires and wheels are used. Take this into consideration while driving. Also, taller tires will cause most vehicles' speedometers to read slowly, so recalibration is required.

Do not add, alter, or fabricate any factory or aftermarket parts to increase vehicle height over the intended height of the IronMan4X4 product purchased. Mixing component brands is not recommended.

A qualified professional mechanic must install all IronMan4X4 products. Specific installation instructions are available free, on request, prior to purchase.

Most states have some type of law limiting vehicle height. The amount of lift allowed, and how the lift can be achieved, varies greatly. Several states offer exemptions for farm or commercial registered vehicles. It is the vehicle owner's responsibility to check state and local laws to ensure that their vehicle will be in compliance.

IronMan4X4 makes no claims regarding lifting devices and excludes any and all implied claims. IronMan4X4 will not be responsible for any altered product, improper installation, or improper use of our products. We will be happy to answer any questions concerning the design, function, and correct use of our products.
